Art Unit: 1651

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the election and amendment filed July 8, 2002.

2. Claims 1-17 are now pending in this application.

Applicant has elected with traverse, Group I, Claims 1-3.

Claims 4-17 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 5.

The restriction is proper according to the M.P.E.P. The arguments have been deemed not to be persuasive.

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product e.g. preparing ethanolic products other than "beer" ethanolic products.

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

And

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

A. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention, page 3, line 13 lacks any designation of the NRRL number, and Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

See the following paragraphs:

B. It is apparent that the strain(s) is/(are) required to practice the claimed invention(s) as recited in the claims. As a required element it must be known and readily available to the public or obtainable by a repeatable method set forth in the specification. If it is not so obtainable or available, the enablement requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, may be satisfied by a deposit of all strains. See 37 C. F. R. 1.802.

The specification does not provide a repeatable method for obtaining the strain(s) and it does not appear to be a readily available material. Deposit of the strain(s) would satisfy the enablement requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. If a deposit has been made, Applicant is required to meet the necessary criteria of the deposit rules in accordance with 37 CFR 1.801-37 CFR 1.809.

If a deposit has not been supplied or made under the Budapest Treaty, then an affidavit or declaration by Applicants or someone associated with the patent owner who is in a position to make such assurances, or a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature, stating that the deposit has been made under the terms of the Budapest Treaty and that all restrictions imposed by the depositor on the availability to the public of the deposited material will be irrevocably removed upon the granting of a patent, would satisfy the deposit requirements, See 37 CFR 1.808.

If a deposit is not made under the terms of the Budapest Treaty, then an affidavit or declaration by Applicants or someone associated with the patent owner who is in a position to make such assurances, or a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature, stating that the deposit has been made at an acceptable depository and that the following criteria have been met:

a) during the pendency of the application, access to the deposit will be afforded to one determined by the Commissioner to be entitled thereto;

b) all restrictions imposed by the depositor on the availability to the public of the deposited material will be irrevocably removed upon the granting of a patent;

c) the deposit will be maintained for a term of at least thirty (30) years and at least five (5) years after the most recent request for the furnishing of a sample of the deposited material;

d) a viability statement in accordance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.807;

and

e) the deposit will be replaced should it become necessary due to inviability, contamination or loss of capability to function in the manner described in the specification.

In addition, the identifying information set forth in 37 CFR 1.809(d) should be added to the specification, See 37 CFR 1.803-37 CFR 1.809 for additional explanations of these requirements.

The specification does not indicate any deposit in accordance with U.S.

Rules of Deposits or any identifying information in the specification for the properties of the culture per se.

C. The language of the claims must make it clear what subject matter the claims encompass to adequately delineate their "metes and bounds". See, e.g., the following decisions: In re Hammack, 427 F.2d. 1378, 1382, 166 USPQ 204, 208 (CCPA 1970); In re Venezia 530 F.2d. 956, 958, 189 USPQ 149, 151 (CCPA 1976); In re Goffe, 526 F.2d. 1393, 1397, 188 USPQ 131, 135 (CCPA 1975); In re Watson, 517 F.2d. 465, 477, 186 USPQ 11, 20 (CCPA 1975); In re Knowlton 481 F.2d. 1357, 1366, 178 USPQ 486, 492 (CCPA 1973). The courts have also indicated that before claimed subject matter can properly be compared to the prior art, it is essential to know what the claims do in fact cover. See, e.g., the following decisions: In re Steele, 305 F.2d. 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962); In re Moore 439 F.2d. 1232, 169 USPQ 236 (CCPA 1969); In re Merat, 519 F.2d. 1390, 186 USPQ 471 (CCPA 1975). Claims 1-3 fail to comply with the above decisions.

Absent any identifying information in the specification for the claimed species, the claimed subject matter cannot be properly be compared.

Applicant is entitled to go to the Board of Appeals if Applicant relies on the intended use of the culture medium for the claimed properties of the strains. The claimed species are not "product by processes" but defined by properties other than the culture per se.

D. The enablement as well as the written description of the instant specification lack support for the claimed strain(s) since the specification lacks adequate written description for the claimed inventions in view of the following points in accordance with the written description requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The description must clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize what is claimed. Thus, an applicant must comply with the written description requirement "by describing the invention, with all its claimed limitations, not that which makes it obvious," and by using "such descriptive means as words, structures, figures, diagrams, formulas, etc., that set forth the claimed invention." Lockwood, 107 F.3d at 1572, 41 USPQ2d at 1966.

An adequate written description of the ingredients requires more than a mere statement that it is part of the invention and reference to a potential method for isolating it.

The description requirement of the patent statute requires a description of an invention, not an indication of a result that one might achieve if one made that invention. See In re Wilder, 736 F.2d 1516, 1521, 222 USPQ 369, 372- 73 (Fed. Cir. 1984). Accordingly, naming a type of material generally known to exist, in the absence of knowledge as to what that material consists of, that is the culture medium having intended properties outside of the medium, is not a description of that material.

Thus, Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention .

The broad generic claim one lacks sufficient description to inform a skilled artisan that applicant was in possession of the claimed invention at the time of filing since the specification lacks a sufficient number of species which have been described by complete structure or identifying characteristics, thus the description requirement has not been satisfied in particular for Claim 1.

E. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112 second paragraph in view of Claim 1, line 1, error in "I" which should be "i".

F. The term "variety" in the expression "variety of fermentation media" renders the claims vague and indefinite as to the scope of the expression as well as broader than the enabling disclosure.

G. The expression in Claim 1 part (ii) does not correspond to the specification "shows a yeast free cell (single or budding double cells) of less...." Applicant is requested to denote the identical or equivalent statement in the specification.

4. No claim is allowed.
